

Language Science Press Unlatched

Support a New Way of Open Access Publishing in Linguistics

Your participation in Language Science Press supports the transition of scholars reclaiming the reigns of publishing. Language Science Press publishes high quality, peer-reviewed Open Access books in Linguistics. With supporters from MIT, Harvard, Yale, Zurich, Berlin, Sydney, Hong Kong etc. Language Science Press truly is a scholarly-led worldwide initiative.

A new way of publishing in Linguistics

- Led by the renowned linguistic scholars Stefan Müller and Martin Haspelmath
- Truly a community-based initiative with more than 800 supporting researchers
- Non-profit & publishing fully Open Access books in Linguistics under CC-BY
- Researchers can submit and publish Open Access without any BPC
- Unique Open Access initiative advanced by a network of reputable scholars

“Sharing Data and methods is one of the pillars of scholarly inquiry. The knowledge created by scholars belongs to everyone, and open access publications are a major pathway to realizing that ideal. Language Science Press, together with Knowledge Unlatched, provides an excellent way for us to make our findings available to the global public.”

Photo by David Blank

Professor Steven Pinker, Harvard University

Language Science Press 2018 - 2020

- Institutions can contribute $1,060 // €1.000 // £860 per annum for a period of three years.
- Enabling Language Science Press to publish 90 high quality, peer-reviewed titles in 2018 - 2020.
- Translating to $36 // €34 // £29 for an online version of a DRM-free title.
- All Language Science Press books and chapters made available as PDF.
- Hosted on OAPEN benefitting from great discoverability and instantly available MARC records.
- Language Science Press is looking for the support of 100 libraries and institutions.

Stay Updated

- Visit our FAQ to find answers to your questions or contact us: support@knowledgeunlatched.org
- Visit the central information page here for more information on this initiative
- Find out more about Language Science Press: langsci-press.org
- Follow Knowledge Unlatched on social media:  @kunlatched  KnowledgeUnlatched