

HAU Books is the book publishing wing of the Society for Ethnographic Theory, a learned society that also publishes the quarterly journal: HAU: Journal of Ethnographic Theory. The initiative is committed to publishing the most distinguished texts in classics and advanced anthropological theory. HAU Books is supported by some of the world's most distinguished anthropology departments and research institutions through the HAU-N.E.T. community. The press releases its titles digitally as Open Access and also offers print editions.

A new approach towards publishing in Anthropology

- HAU Books has developed an innovative approach to its Open Access book program and plans to ensure its sustainability through the funding support of libraries worldwide
- The initiative wants to ensure that anthropologists' precious ethnographic findings can return to the communities studied by the scientists in free and shareable form
- Library support will cover HAU's maintenance expenses (clearing translation rights, copyediting and typesetting fees, tech support, graphic design, editorial support etc.) and ensures approximately 45 book titles will be published Open Access between 2019 -2021
- Thanks to this model, prospective authors may publish their titles Open Access and bear no author-facing costs for themselves, or their institutions
- Five inter-related book series are published online as downloadable, Open Access books in the first instance, and later as hard copies distributed by the University of Chicago Press
