Making Open Access Work

Pledging 2018

Knowledge Unlatched

Overview

„Opening access to scholarly literature fosters knowledge in all academic fields, from the sciences to the humanities. It helps readers find relevant work and accelerate their research, and helps authors find readers and amplify their impact. Knowledge Unlatched is a leader in finding economically sustainable ways to open or unlatch this literature, both in journals and in books.“

Prof. Peter Suber , Harvard University

OpenEdition Books Select is the first crowdfunding program for Open Access development in French-language scientific publishing. With OpenEdition Books Select, libraries can contribute to making high-quality French-language content available Open Access, provided by the key academic publishers in the humanities and social sciences. The program is led by OpenEdition, the French non-profit initiative promoting innovative and fair Open Access models, supported by the main French research institutions.

OpenEdition Books Select 2018: Bibliodiversity and Multilingualism

A transparent and sustainable model that meets the needs of the scientific community while promoting bibliodiversity and multilingualism. OpenEdition Books Select is a program that benefits the entire scientific community:

- Libraries can share costs and play an active role in spreading knowledge
- Authors can more easily and widely disseminate their findings
- Publishers get funds to secure Open Access
- Readers from all over the world can freely access multidisciplinary, peer-reviewed content in the Humanities and Social Sciences

Bibliodiversity and multilingualism are at the heart of OpenEdition's strategy, which is why a multilingual approach in academic publishing should be encouraged in the international context.

Pledge for OpenEdition Books Select

- OpenEdition Books Select allows libraries to directly support Open Access in French-language scientific publishing, in keeping with an ethical approach and at reasonable, transparent costs.
- The collection includes 30 books, of which 10 frontlist titles and 20 backlist titles
- 125 slots are available for libraries and institutions at $1,475 // €1,200 // £1,050* per slot
*(excl. VAT)

The Open Commons of Phenomenology

The Open Research Infrastructure for Phenomenology

Your participation in The Open Commons of Phenomenology will support the online research platform which is bringing Open Access to scholarly materials and resources in the field of phenomenology. This new initiative, led by renowned scholars in the field, is building a comprehensive corpus of phenomenological sources.

A key digital resource for phenomenology

Full Corpus of Phenomenology

- 250,000+ references
- Structured bibliographies of leading scholars and historical figures
- Links to full texts through DOIs
- Detailed metadata with controlled indexing

Digital Tools & Workspace

- Professional profile page for researchers
- Management of all research data (conferences, courses, references)
- Annotating, visualising, and sharing tools

Open Access Publishing

- 4 journals (Gold, APC free)
- Digital edition in TEI-XML of Husserliana Series (30 volumes)
- OCR-digitisation of 500 rare books
- Academic blogging platform

Sustainable Open Infrastructure

- Embedded in institutions and archives
- Public data licensed under CC-BY-NC
- Standard export formats
- Not for profit

Pledge your support

- The first 100 institutions can pledge $1,230 // €1,000 // £880* p.a., for a period of three years.
- Personalised technical support offered to five of your researchers to design and manage blogs or conference websites and to strengthen the visibility of their work
- Membership in the Open Commons of Phenomenology Library Board
- Benefit from standardised open data management in phenomenology

"The Open Commons is a much-needed venue, and is actually overdue. I wholeheartedly support this project"

HAU Books is the book publishing wing of the Society for Ethnographic Theory, a learned society that also publishes the quarterly journal: HAU: Journal of Ethnographic Theory. The initiative is committed to publishing the most distinguished texts in classics and advanced anthropological theory. HAU Books is supported by some of the world's most distinguished anthropology departments and research institutions through the HAU-N.E.T. community. The press releases its titles digitally as Open Access and also offers print editions.

A new approach towards publishing in Anthropology

- HAU Books has developed an innovative approach to its Open Access book program and plans to ensure its sustainability through the funding support of libraries worldwide
- The initiative wants to ensure that anthropologists' precious ethnographic findings can return to the communities studied by the scientists in free and shareable form
- Library support will cover HAU's maintenance expenses (clearing translation rights, copyediting and typesetting fees, tech support, graphic design, editorial support etc.) and ensures approximately 45 book titles will be published Open Access between 2019 -2021
- Thanks to this model, prospective authors may publish their titles Open Access and bear no author-facing costs for themselves, or their institutions
- Five inter-related book series are published online as downloadable, Open Access books in the first instance, and later as hard copies distributed by the University of Chicago Press

HAU Books 2019-2021

- Institutional support costs $1,230 // € 1,000 // £ 880* p.a. for a period of three years
  - Your support will allow HAU Books to publish approximately 45 books Open Access in the 2019 – 2021 period under the CC-BY 4.0 license
  - Peer-reviewed titles, free of any Book Processing Charges and fully Open Access
  - Print version will also be available at a later date from University of Chicago Press
- *(excl. VAT)

Join a Transformative OA Membership Model

Luminos is a unique open access model from the University of California Press. Through Luminos libraries can help make important works in the humanities and social sciences freely accessible to every reader, everywhere. Membership fees are used to directly cover the costs of publishing around 45 titles per year, with any surplus added to an author waiver fund to support authors in getting their research out there.

Become a member of a unique OA model

- Luminos' OA model means both the benefits and costs of Open Access are shared among stakeholder communities, creating a more sustainable ecosystem for publishing scholarly works in the humanities and social sciences
- The selection and review processes for content remain the same as in UC Press's traditional program; the same exacting criteria and peer review standards apply
- Authors at Luminos Member Library institutions receive discounts on Title Publication Fees
- Support for successful Open Access models helps remove barriers to access for important scholarly work, including levelling the playing field between researchers in high- and low-income countries

Pledge your support

- Luminos offers a range of membership models to suit all budgets
- Membership fees ranges: $ 1,000 - $20,000 // € 825 - € 16,275 // £725 - £14,325***
- Please contact us to discuss which membership model is best suited to your institution
- CC-BY 4.0 license

OAPEN provides a dedicated infrastructure to support the discoverability of OA books. OAPEN hosts OA titles from many academic book publishers (including all titles provided through KU) and collaborates with research funders through its deposit service (Wellcome, European Research Council, Austrian Science Fund, Swiss National Science Foundation). Currently over 5,000 OA titles are hosted on OAPEN, accounting for nearly half of all the titles available in the Directory of Open Access Books (DOAB).

The OAPEN Library membership programme is set up specifically for libraries and their institutions. Thanks to their membership contributions, member libraries make possible the vital work of OAPEN and DOAB for libraries, scholars and the general public, to provide free and unrestricted access, improve discovery, and preserve scholarly books. OAPEN members are entitled to receive customised feeds of all the OAPEN collections, obtain regular usage benchmark reports and general reports regarding the transition to OA books. In addition, OAPEN members are listed in OAPEN's website and newsletters.

OAPEN Membership Services (Autumn 2018):

Deposit service:

- Consists of an institutional uploading service for OA books and chapters by researchers affiliated with the member institution.

MARC21 records creation

- OAPEN members are entitled to enhanced meta-data feeds for the entire OAPEN database, with full MARC 21 records and other formats, enhanced with identifiers to link OA books to other (non-OA) editions (ISBN numbers and OCLC control numbers).

Early access to industry reports

- Early access to reports tracking developments in the transition to Open Access, such as OA book publishers and models, licensing, policies, projects, and the growth of publications and usage.

Usage reports and benchmarks

- OAPEN members receive regular reports regarding the usage of OAPEN collections within their institution, and benchmark reports analysing usage of OA books and usage for their institution.

How to Participate - Library Membership Package:

- Deposit service
- Early access to industry reports
- Monthly usage reports + benchmarking insights
- Access to customised MARC21 feeds for the entire OAPEN database
*(excl. VAT)

The Open Access Data & Analytics Tool (OA DAT) allows the entire research community to make informed choices about open access. This unique resource combines anonymized surveys of publishers' actual open access activities with disparate public data sets that have historically been difficult to use together. This online tool is presented by Delta Think, an independent publishing and digital media consultancy, with a reputation for delivering unbiased and practical information to the scholarly communications community.

How Can You be Part of That?

By sharing the benefits and costs of OA DAT access, you are enabling the community to visualize how the market is truly functioning, beyond the confines of academic OA-only studies.

The OA DAT allows you to:

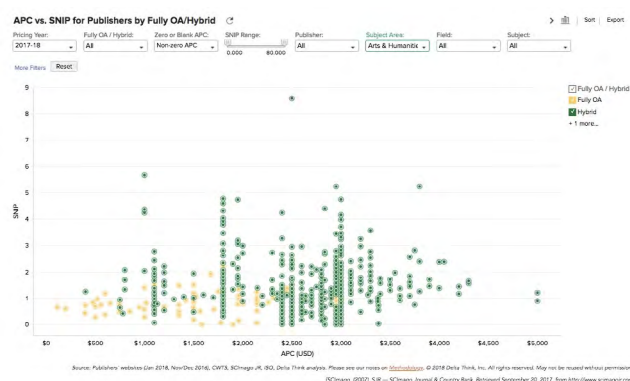

- Understand how open access is being used, and how much it is being used
- Track open access uptake, pricing, and value over time
- Provide information on cost-effective options by showing pricing trends for over 14,000 journals
- Zone in on discipline-specific information by drill-downs into over 300 subjects
- Help advise faculty on the complexities and nuances of open access
- Greatly reduce the work needed to produce briefings and basic education materials

All libraries participating in KU 2018 enjoy trial access for two months

An example of what the OA DAT offers

APC's and Value for Money:

Under the APC topic, you can analyze the relationship between "quality" and price. The fine-grained subject filtering allows patterns to be visualized by specific disciplines. Find alternative publication venues that may offer comparable levels of impact at lower prices, or under alternative models (fully OA vs. hybrid journals). The example shows one slice of the data from the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences; the tool also has complete coverage across Life, Physical, and Health Sciences across all of its' topics.

Institutional support costs $2,300 // € 1,870 // £1,645* p.a. for a period of three years

*(excl. VAT)
