

Innovation in HSS Research through Open Access Videos

LATEST THINKING envisions to broaden the impact of scholarly works. Their independent Open Access Video Journal provides video summaries of research findings covering all academic fields. All original videos are based on peer-reviewed academic publications, (curated by a Selection Committee), and brought to you by the authors in person via a video player which navigates users through the scholar's flow of ideas. To date, more than 200 videos have been published. Your funding will help to ensure that more high-quality, up-to-date videos on the latest research are freely available to users all around the world. Participating institutions and researchers will benefit from acquiring video-making knowledge and supporting broader dissemination of scholarly findings.

The Videos

With the support of a minimum of 10 libraries, 135 videos in 3 academic disciplines (Linguistics, Anthropology and Political Science) are planned over the coming 3 years. The videos will be made available under a CC license (CC-BY 4.0) and MARC21 records will be created for the cataloguing of the videos. In addition, LATEST THINKING will make personal webinars on the role of videos in scholarly communications available to library supporters and researchers. By funding LATEST THINKING your library can play an active role in promoting Open Access video content and supporting researchers.
