Dear KU Partners,

Welcome to the brochure for KU’s 9th pledging round! While there is a lot of change and turmoil in the world around us all, we at KU remain focused on our mission of making as much research content as possible freely available to all users all around the world. And thanks to your support we have made some significant progress over the last few years: more than 3,000 books and over 50 journals have already been made open access thanks to one of KU’s models. For the 2022 unlatching, our established models KU Select and KU Partners have helped to make content from around 100 publishers available open access. I would especially like to highlight the first topical package involving books from multiple publishers which we introduced last year: The KU Focus Collection, dealing with one of the most important issues of the present day, Climate Change, was a great success, and thanks to the strong support from libraries all around the world we will be able to make five more books than planned open access. And this is just the beginning!

For the 2023 pledging you will find a wealth of titles in a number of different collections that undoubtedly merit your support. And – by popular demand – we are expanding the KU Focus Collections and have asked publishers for their most relevant titles not only on Climate Change, but also on Global Health.

Another new member in the KU family is Oable, our workflow and payment solution supporting libraries in dealing with the ever-increasing amount of OA articles in their institution, across different publishers as well as agreement types. We are pleased to see the encouraging uptake so far, and are looking forward to more libraries (and publishers) joining us in this innovative model in the coming year.

Lastly, I am sure you have read the news that Wiley acquired KU at the end of last year. We on the KU team are excited about the first months of our collaboration and the opportunities we are working on together. In a new business unit dedicated to serving the ecosystem alongside our sister companies such as Hindawi and Authorea, both Wiley and KU are committed to continuing to offer a neutral platform which provides the best, most customer-friendly solutions both in terms of business models and technology. We will keep you posted as new projects evolve.

So as you can see, KU remains unchanged in its unique blend of reliability and relentless innovation, and we are excited to continue on this journey together with you, our partners. Thank you as always for your commitment to open access, and thank you for supporting KU!

Yours,
Alexandra, Archana, Carolina, Catherine, Elaine, Laurens, Max, Mirela, Neil, Olat, Pablo, Piotr, Wilson, and Sven.

KU Open Opportunities

Introducing an innovative new model in partnership with University of Michigan Press.

KU Open Opportunities

In 2022, KU is launching a model we hope will become standard across our collections. In partnership with University of Michigan Press we want researchers who have insufficient access to funding to participate in the global reach that Open Access publication affords. This new KU Open Opportunities model will initially consist of at least 30% of this content but will expand in future years as the model becomes established.

Opening new opportunities to all academics, including lecturers, independent scholars, emeritus faculty, and PhD candidates, the KU Open Opportunities model aligns wherever possible with the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Throughout this year’s offerings we are also aiming for as much synergy as possible between the SDGs and the content packages on offer. This is a strategic aim of Knowledge Unlatched and an integral part of our future conversations with publishers.

Excellence first, Funding Second!

The KU Open Opportunities collections will include at least 30% of books from scholars like:

- Contingent faculty who are not eligible for the open access funding available to tenure-track scholars.

- Independent, unaffiliated scholars with no possibility for institutional support for making their work open access.

- Early career researchers such as PhD candidates who have little or no access to institutional funds.

Peace and justice come in the aftermath of conflict and violence. Topics will include: challenges to authoritarianism; the power of elections to create expanded access to political participation; the quests for stability in the Middle East, in Europe, and in Asia; public policies and migrant communities in Western democracies; and the marriage of technology and symbols in the act of protest around the world.

Key Features:

- 10 new titles due for publication in the course of 2023.
- Global spread: includes cutting-edge research from all over the world.
- At least 30% of the titles from researchers who would not otherwise be eligible for funding.
- Scholarship from the world-renowned Political Science and International Relations frontlist catalogs of the University of Michigan Press.
- Title list available.

KU Select 2023 HSS Books

Pledge for the full collection of 343 HSS Books and support KU’s multi-disciplinary flagship collection. For those institutions that find the full collection is too large or who prefer to invest in specific disciplines, subject-based packages within KU Select are available. Please see the subject specific collections for more information on the pricing.

Based on library feedback, the names of the Collections continue to reflect the year(s) in which most of the books will be unlatched.

Last year we introduced the first KU Focus Collection, which was on the topic of Climate Change and which proved to be a great success. Thanks to the overwhelming support from institutions around the world we will be able to make five more books than planned OA.

For this year we once again asked librarians for their feedback. The majority of participants were in favour of two Focus Collections, on Climate Change again and also on one other topic. The most popular topical choice this time was Global Health. We are therefore pleased to be able to offer you two KU Focus Collections with 2023 frontlist books. Both follow the same model as last year and plan to make at least 20 books available.

To complement the two Focus Collections and to strengthen our commitment to providing highly relevant and topical content on current issues we are also offering an opportunity to invest in open access videos which aligns with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) of Climate Action.
KU Focus Collection 2023: Climate Change

- Features cutting-edge books from publishers such as Emerald, Ohio University Press, Taylor & Francis and others. A provisional title list is available.
- Last year KU introduced the first KU Focus Collection, which was on the topic of Climate Change and which proved to be a great success.
- Once more this is a special collection containing 20 frontlist (unlatching in 2023) books from several publishers around one single topical, cutting-edge theme chosen by librarians.
- Titles selected by the KU Selection Committee 2022.

KU Focus Collection 2023: Global Health

- Features cutting-edge books from publishers such as University of London Press, AOSIS, Taylor & Francis and others. A provisional title list is available.
- For this year we once again asked librarians for their feedback. The majority of participants were in favour of two Focus Collections, on Climate Change again and also on one other topic. The most popular topical choice this time was Global Health.

Latest Thinking on the Climate Action SDG 2023

- LATEST THINKING envisions to broaden the impact of scholarly works. Their independent Open Access platform provides video summaries of research findings covering all academic fields.
- All original videos are based on peer-reviewed academic publications and brought to you by the authors in person via a video player which navigates users through the scholar’s flow of ideas.
- Help support the funding of 20 new videos per year in the highly topical area of Climate Action. Your funding will help to ensure that more high-quality, up-to-date videos on the latest research are freely available to users all around the world.

KU Select 2023 - Anthropology

- Titles curated by the KU Selection Committee consisting of librarians from all over the world.
- Cooperative approach less expensive than the purchase of single copies by each library.
- Includes books from SUNY Press, Pluto Press, Taylor & Francis and others.
- Libraries can choose between the Full Collection of HSS Books or pledge by subject package.

Berghahn Migration and Development Studies 2021 - 2023
- Frontlist publications covering the topics of international migration and movement as well as the social implications of economic and environmental change on communities.
- Includes titles from the Forced Migration series as well as Integration and Conflict Studies and the Environmental Anthropology and Ethnobiology series among others.
- Features Berghahn Books’ most action-oriented anthropology portfolio aimed at achieving the widest impact that its research insights make possible.

Berghahn Open Anthro 2023 - 2025
- Ground-breaking Subscribe-to-Open (S2O) project developed in partnership with Libraria. The pilot was successful and shows that the S2O model can be sustainable.
- S2O seeks to take what is working well in the current system and applies it to achieving a sustainable and potentially universal model of open access.
- No author-facing costs.

HAU Books 2023 - 2025
- HAU Books is the book publishing wing of the Society for Ethnographic Theory (SET).
- The aim is to ensure that anthropologists’ precious ethnographic findings can return to the communities studied by the scientists in a free and shareable form.
- No author-facing costs.
